2006 RESERVE PINOT GRIGIO

Bottled October 2006

The Reserve Pinot Grigio 2006 was made from fruit selected from certain vineyard parcels. The vines selected were more heavily crop thinned and harvested later than the other Pinot Grigio fruit.

This wine was tank fermented, aged on lees in tank and underwent no malolactic fermentation. The quality of the fruit was such that it was able to carry the wine without this style of winemaking.

The ultimate aim was to produce a full, lush, textural wine that would age well but would always be recognized as being a varietal Pinot Gris.

The aroma is Turkish delight and perfume whilst the palate is rich and textural. The wine shows the best characters of pure Pinot Gris fruit.
